Weather Channel visits county for hurricane documentary footage

BY TRACI BONNEY
Wind and water — a potentially lethal combination. The Atlanta-based Weather Channel is currently filming for a documentary about the particular wind/water combination called a hurricane. The documentary, called "Danger's Edge," will include interviews with Hancock County Civil Defense director Bobby Boudin and survivors of Hurricane Camille.

Doug DePriest, co-producer of the half-hour show scheduled to air in September, said the documentary will include photos, home movies, old news footage and interviews about five storms: the 1900 Galveston, Texas, hurricane which is still considered the nation's greatest natural disaster; the 1935 hurricane that devastated the Florida Keys; the 1938 New England hurricane; Hurricane Camille; and the most recent hurricane to batter the East Coast, Hurricane Hugo.

DePriest explained that the five segments will focus on different aspects of the storm, including storm surge and evacuation.

"We'll probably have about 20 hours of tape by the time we finish filming," he commented.

The documentary, designed to inform people about hurricane preparedness, will be made available to schools as part of an Earth Sciences Library in addition to being shown on the Weather Channel. "This program is basically to wake some people up," DePriest stated.

He, editor and co-producer Reed Barker and photographer Norris Lanus began work on the special at the national hurricane conference held in Florida April 3-5. From there, they went to the Florida Keys and interviewed several hurricane survivors.

Mississippi was their next stop, with the three-man crew interviewing and touring the county Tuesday. After leaving the state, the crew will travel to Galveston before returning to Atlanta and preparing for the trip up the East Coast.

By the time the documentary is ready for media promotion in July, the crew will have interviewed 20 to 30 people and shot hundreds of feet of film. After it is edited and an original music score is composed for it, the documentary will be a five segment, half-hour program containing 10 to 15 interviews. Executive producer for the program is Linda Lloyd.

While talking about Hurricane Camille, DePriest mentioned the origin of the storm's name. He said it was named after the daughter of meteorologist John Hope, who now works at the Weather Channel.

Boudin, who prefers to keep a low profile while doing his job, said, "This is the only part of the job I hate," when asked how he feels about his new "celebrity" status.

Saturday hours set for voter registration

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

A massive voter registration drive will be held on Saturday in Hancock County by the Circuit Clerk's office.

"The purpose of Saturday's push is to make it as convenient as possible for the working people of Hancock County and also to comply with House Bill 2610 and Section 23-17-37 as required by law," said Pam Metzler, Circuit clerk.

There will be 15 county precincts open from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., in addition to the Circuit Clerk's office, Bay St. Louis and Waveland's voter registrars' offices.

"Saturday, too, will enable first time voters and opportunity of registering," Metzler added.

The clerk stated, "Any resident who will reach the age of 18 by November 5, 1991, will be eligible to register and vote in the General Election. Even though they will only be 17, they can vote in the primary elections if they reach age 18 before Nov. 5."

The Democratic and Republican primaries will be Tuesday, Sept. 17 with run-offs on Tuesday, Oct. 8.

The primary elections are normally in August every four years, but because of redistricting due to the recent census, elections have been moved to later in the year.

Friday, Aug. 16, 7 p.m. is the deadline for registration in the first and second primaries, while Friday, October 4, 7 p.m.

is the registration deadline for the general election.

The registrations will be conducted by the circuit clerk's staff and experienced poll workers.

"On Friday I will swear in the poll workers for one day as deputy voter registrars and also at that time give them instructions on the proper procedures," Metzler said.

The new law calls for three precincts from each district to be open for voter registrations.

Metzler said, "In the spirit of cooperation in the voter registration drive, both Bay Mayor Eddie Favre and Waveland Mayor Stella Frilot have agreed to open Saturday."

Chamber picks Vernon as executive director

BY TRACI BONNEY

The Chamber of Commerce's new executive director has unpacked her luggage for now.

Cynthia Vernon, a Bay St. Louis resident, began working as the chamber's executive director April 22 after almost two years of traveling.

Vernon, who has resided in Bay St. Louis four years, said she had traveling in her blood, but "I decided I want to become more involved in the community where I have lived so long, so I came back home."

Before the Greenwood native hit the road in May of 1989, she worked for almost nine years in various positions with Wal-Mart Stores Inc. Her most recent position with the department store chain was as the Pacific/Midwest region set-up coordinator, where she supervised 20 management members and 200 staff personnel to train, staff and schedule new Wal-Mart locations in a 10-state area.

CYNTHIA VERNON

While working with Wal-Mart, she coordinated the staffing, set-up and grand opening of the local store in Waveland. Vernon is a 1981 graduate of the University of Mississippi and holds a bachelor of business administration degree.

She explained her application for the position of executive director by saying she thinks the job is interesting.

"I think it will be exciting and challenging. The bulk of the work will be in promoting the area. This area has a lot going for it, but to bring people in, you have to promote it. I feel that we have a gold mine here."

However, she added, that gold mine remains undiscovered for the most part.

"People know where Biloxi is, but how many know where Bay St. Louis is? Hopefully, we can change that."

Eight injured in Sunday wreck

BY TRACI BONNEY

A four-month-old child injured in a Sunday morning three-car accident is recovering in Jackson, according to Bay St. Louis Patrolman Terry Eley.

Eley said Brandon Dougherty, 4, of Bay St. Louis was one of eight people injured Sunday morning around 9:55 when an Oldsmobile being driven by Ruby L. Duncan, 50, of Bay St. Louis, struck a Mustang being driven by Lisa A. Stritzinger, 24, of Bay St. Louis. Brandon was a passenger in the Mustang, along with Mary Dininger, 20, of Baton Rouge, La.; Ashley Dougherty, 2, of Bay St. Louis; Melanie Dininger, 9, of Baton Rouge; Susan Dougherty, 14, of Bay St. Louis; and Kenneth Dougherty, 3, of Bay St. Louis.

According to Eley's report, the Mustang was in the west-bound lane on Hwy. 90 in front of the Gerry Lane automobile dealership when the Oldsmobile struck it while trying to make a left turn. The Mustang was knocked into the Gerry Lane tow truck sitting on the dealership lot. The tow truck was empty.

Brandon, who sustained severe head trauma, was rushed to Jackson. After surgery, he is now in good condition and is not expected to suffer any brain damage, Eley said.

He added that Stritzinger sustained cuts to her face and

The board did not vote to change the district policy at that time but discussed the revision.

The Sea Coast Echo regrets the error.

Bird calls

Ah, springtime in Hancock County! The sun shining on the Bay, honeysuckle scenting the air, and the melodic warble of the single- and double-breasted rumor-spreaders.

What? You mean you haven't heard the call of the rumor-spreaders?

Well, I'm not surprised if some of you all in the north part of the county haven't, but that little feather-brain seems to be popping up everywhere in Bay St. Louis.

Of course, the rumor-spreaders (both the single- and double-breasted variety) is a normally shy creature, but if something excites it, it will emit a cry that can sweep the town in a matter of hours. That cry varies, depending on what excited it. If the source of agitation is something political or otherwise controversial, that critter will set up a din that echoes for miles.

It's hard to spot the rumor-spreaders, though. Everyone seems to have heard it at one time or another, but no one will admit that they've seen it.

As for its habitat, the rumor-spreaders live almost anywhere — houses, apartments, offices, businesses, you name it.

The dangerous thing about the rumor-spreaders is that its cries sound uncomfortably like those of the single- and double-breasted truth-singers. One can easily confuse the two sounds.

If you mistake a rumor-spreaders cry for that of a truth-singer, you may find yourself in a disquieting state of confusion. If this happens, your best bet is to track the sound to its source.

If it turns out to be a rumor-spreaders, ignore it. It's harmless as long as you don't pay attention to it.

If it's a truth-singer... well, that's up to you.

So, ladies and gentlemen, this concludes this week's study of the nature of Bay St. Louis. Next week, we'll take a closer look at the hard-to-find fax-attacker, another interesting native of the area.

Vernon, who is single, is a member of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. She said she loves to cook and enjoys several sports, including baseball, softball, bicycling and walking.

"I also love kids. I want to become more involved with the young people in the area and with the community as a whole."

Her main goals at this point in her new occupation are to get settled into her role as executive director and learn as much as she can.

"I also want the chamber to increase its membership some, to continue and enhance the harmony between the communities in the county in working on different projects."

"My main objective is to keep things rolling as they have been, and to enhance what we have here."

Vernon said she has "a tough row to hoe to follow Libby (Roland)," but thinks her prior experience will be of assistance.

Several phone calls temporarily halted the interview. As Vernon adeptly fielded questions and comments from the callers, her natural confidence indicated that she will be more than able to hoe the row ahead of her.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

I have attended many fund raisers over the years, some have been very successful, others good and a few, so-so.

I do have to say one of the best I have witnessed in recent years was the Hancock County American Cancer Society's Red Beans 'n Rice dinner held Monday at Christ Episcopal's Virginia Hall.

There was community participation from many sides, such as the many restaurants supplying the food, the volunteers who helped serve it and, most importantly, those who purchased tickets.

On behalf of the local Cancer Society chapter, I would like to extend a sincere thanks to all of the restaurants and their owners for the cooked beans and rice and cole-slaw, grocers for bread and Christ Episcopal Church for the use of their facility.

I enjoyed my food and many others have told me they enjoyed theirs.

I will be looking forward to next year's event.

Talk about a group of energetic people! I have to tell you about the group who was busy Sunday afternoon landscaping the entrance to Port Bienville Industrial Park in Ansley.

The idea was the 'brain child' of Toni Larroux of GE Plastics, who contacted Hancock County Agent Randy Smith, who drew the landscape plan.

Joining GE Plastics on the landscaping project were Barnard & Burk Contractors, Gulf Coast Security and Port & Harbor-Commission members.

It would be worth your while to drive down Ansley way and take a look at the entrance to Port Bienville Industrial Park.

It always amazes me at the amount of work which can be done when a group tackles a beautification project.

We just need more of them in the county.

Today the St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaw Band members are heading to Orlando, Florida to compete in high school band competition.

Band members along with their director Catchie Choina have been working very hard for this venture and I wish all the Rock-A-Chaws well.

I am hoping they will be bringing home some trophies to add to St. Stanislaus' long string of band awards they have received over the years.

A celebration of education

It was President Kennedy, at a White House dinner honoring Nobel Prize winners, who said: I think this is the most extraordinary collection of talent and human knowledge that has ever been gathered together at the White House, with the possible exception of when Thomas Jefferson dined alone.

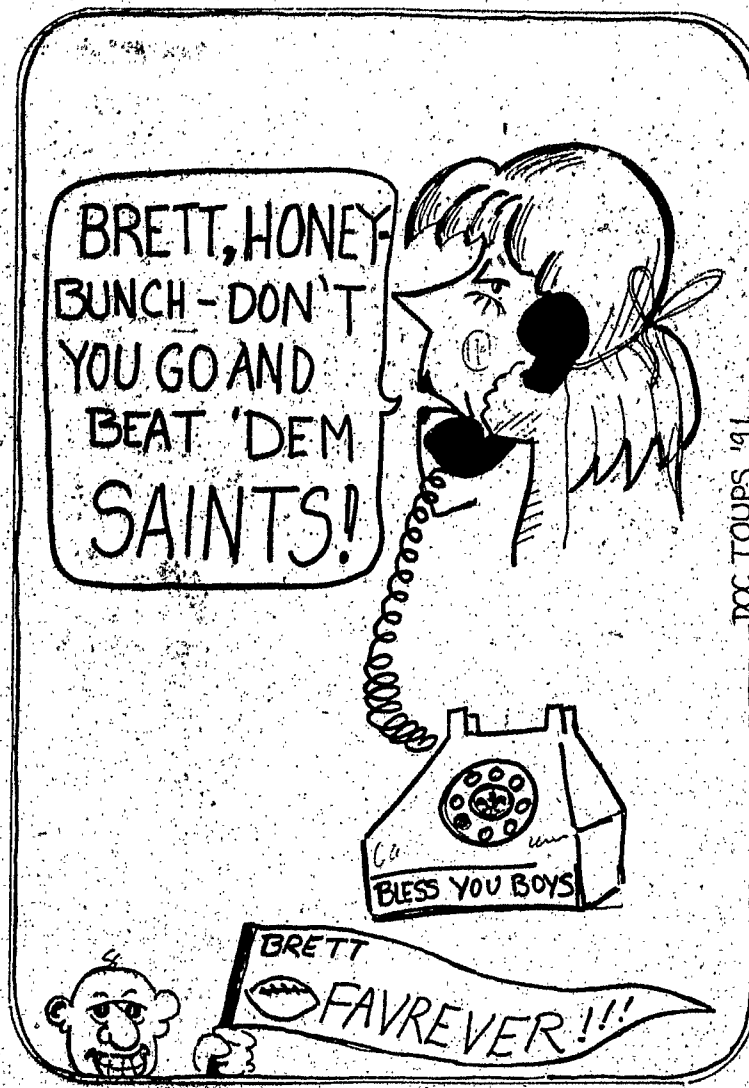

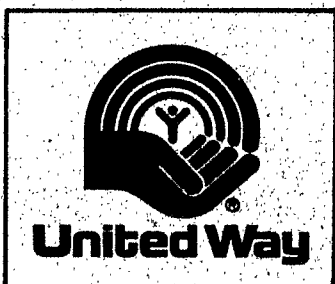

Too bad President Kennedy could not have had lunch in Mississippi a few days ago.

He may have agreed that a gathering of Mississippi students may have been the most extraordinary collection of talent and human knowledge ever gathered together for lunch anywhere in America. He certainly would have agreed that no such gathering has ever taken place in Mississippi.

The occasion was the statewide Education Celebration held in Jackson as part of the Annual Membership Meeting of the Mississippi Economic Council. Together in one room for lunch were more than 200 of Mississippi's 1991 STAR Students and their STAR teachers.

One STAR Student is selected from each participating school. That student, academically, is the best the school has to offer. So, at the Education Celebration were the best and the brightest Mississippi has to offer. And, with them the more than 200 special teachers who have helped to bring them to this point of academic excellence.

A quick review of the academic credentials of these bright and energetic students leads to a clear conclusion: Mississippi's future is in good hands. All we need do is keep most of these young men and women at home in Mississippi.

Let gambling proceeds fund schools; bring prosperity to us

To the Editor:

Rev. Barber was definitely out of line when he held the "Big Gambling: Prayer Meet."

I was raised to believe in God, too, but I feel He has a whole lot of more serious prayers to answer than that of uninformed masses calling up to Him on gambling.

These same masses go to Las Vegas to gamble. The Baptist Convention was one of the largest ever held in Las Vegas. Gambling did very well that week also.

Besides, it was the majority of people in Hancock County who voted in dockside gambling. Let it be, give it a try.

Let Hancock County show some backbone. Let it prosper. Let some new businesses in, and let the old ones make a living for a change.

Let gambling support your schools. Let the tourists enjoy Hancock County enough that they come back.

Let the people make decent wages. Let the preachers call on God to help when He needs to help! And if the church needs money, the people will make more and pay more tithes and offerings. Everyone wins!

Most of all, let the people who voted for gambling admit it and do something to get it going. This county could really prosper, but it has to have something to work with.

Sincerely,
Maureen Zech

Rally participant confirms story of doll raffle

Dear Editor,

I would like to confirm Larry Smith's statement on the doll raffle held at the First Baptist Church grounds.

On April 6 I attended the latter half of the "Righteousness Exalts A Nation" rally. After the rally, I walked to a few shops in the 200 block of Main Street, but deciding to get a bite to eat, I turned around and headed back to the 100 block.

I could hardly believe my eyes when in the dissipating crowds of the rally I saw two ladies holding dolls, selling raffle tickets on the First Baptist Church's grounds.

I immediately thought of the old story of how in medieval England, pickpocketing was rampant during the executions of pickpockets!

While I do not know if this was a church-related raffle, I did not see any attempts by church officials or congregation to stop this.

Thank you,
Josef P. Overal

Waveland residents can be proud of clean animal shelter

Dear Editor,

This morning, for the first time in several months, I dropped into the Waveland Animal Shelter. What I saw there made me think that I was having a "wish dream."

Little puppies were contentedly drowsing in clean, paper-lined cages that had been rolled out into the warm sunshine. Inside the large outside runs both the runs and the animals were dry and clean.

Viewing the inside of the shelter was like looking at a well-kept human hospital. The walls were fresh, and there was not a piece of dirt on the floor or anywhere in or outside the stalls.

Even the ceiling was shining, and the fan moved the air around so pleasantly that the indoor animals were calm and peaceful. They were clean, and not a trace of an odor was to be found anywhere.

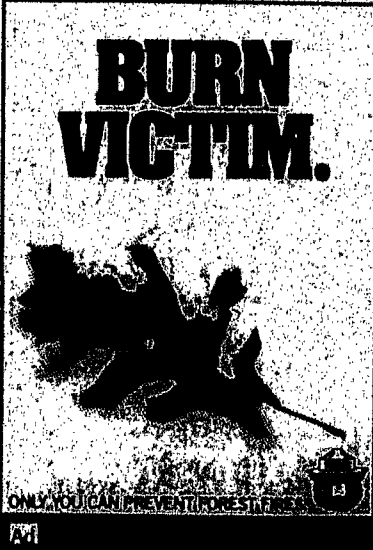

The Waveland citizens can at last be proud of their animal shelter. The Waveland animal lovers no longer have to be afraid to go there, as they dread what the shelter is. Ed Abson and the shelter attendants are to be congratulated for their personal efforts.

I know Mayor Stella Elliot has more improvements on line for the shelter. If this is indicative of her plans for the rest of Waveland, many bravos for her.

On another subject, I compliment Stella for her discretion in not giving in to Stan Weidman's request that a city employee's termination be discussed in public forum. This should put many city employees' mind at rest knowing that employer-employee relations are kept confidential by their mayor.

Gambling profits are quick fix; quality of life at stake

Dear Editor,

For some seven months I watched CNN and other news programs as they paraded hundreds of experts who made predictions on what was to happen in the affair with Iraq. With their failure rate, I feel very comfortable in sharing my thoughts on what is to happen in the Bay-Waveland area as a result of dockside gambling, which is just another term meaning a casino that floats.

I was reared in a county located in central Mississippi. Toward the end of the Great Depression, it was a pioneer in the development of the chicken industry in this state.

The original intent was to bring a degree of prosperity to the small farmer by making him a small independent businessman who would support the processing plant. Some of these farmers would furnish fertile eggs, some could run hatcheries and produce baby chicks, some could raise broilers. Others would operate feed mills. The processing plant would employ the surplus unskilled labor, and with its marketing knowledge, sell the final product.

This was a great plan, but it was not the way things turned out.

The processors, the guys with the deep pockets said, "Why are we losing good money along the way? Why share the profits with these little guys?"

So the processors put in their own hatcheries, their own broiler houses, their own feed mills. If the small farmer did not contract with the processor, on the processor's terms, he could not sell his product.

The big fish had gobbled up the little fish.

Let us consider this scenario with a dockside casino in the Bay-Cove area just northwest of Bay St. Louis at the mouth of the Jourdan River.

Please understand that we are not talking about Mama joining the girls for a night of bingo, where the most one might win or lose is about the price of a theater ticket, nor are we talking about risking a quarter at a church fair where we try to throw a loop over a stake to win a donated doll.

We are talking about gambling that can cost a person his home or farm, his business, or impoverish his wife and children.

So first, this operation will require a huge investment if it is to be done right, which means the professionals will come in. No doubt they will have a local frontman at the beginning, but the brains and the big bucks will come from Vegas.

Do you think that a professional casino developer intends to let a small local business skim off his potential profits? Of course not! The only thing they need from Hancock County is the legality to operate. Once they have a foothold, they will develop their property as a destination point. That means they will build their own hotels and restaurants, and these will probably be run as loss leaders, as part of the come-on.

They will have florist shops, car service centers, liquor stores and lounges; they will have a confection store, a jewelry store and a shop where one can buy fancy things for the ladies. These will be places where husbands can purchase guilt-gifts for their wives. They will have their own live, risqué entertainment, a pharmacy and house doctor.

The prices will all be competitive, and the facilities will be bright and glittery and complete enough to keep one in the area during his entire stay.

They will bring in their own management teams along with their skills and sharks.

Many locally owned businesses will be unable to compete because new and often better financed and knowledgeable competition will in-migrate. These local entrepreneurs will, too, go with those who could not compete with the food super-stores and the K-Mart and the Wal-Mart. With them will go their families and their employees who are destined for retirement, the unemployment lines or to the casino complex as hired managers or clerks.

The Bay Cove area will become "new" Bay St. Louis, and as in the past when businesses moved from "back of town" to Main Street then on to Highway 90, a new four-laned Blue Meadow Road will be the street of choice for commerce.

New commercial growth, all under casino's control, will radiate out from Bay Cove to Highway 90, and there will be few, if any, local proprietors among them.

Commercial property values will decrease the further it gets east, south or west from the junction of Highway 90 and Blue Meadow Road. Inversely, residential property will increase in value the further it is from the casino complex.

I see no real growth in the housing market as the in-migration will about equal the disgusted in-out-migration, plus we may lose the in-migration of those who have been fleeing a situation similar to what we are to have with this restructuring of community values. Of course, only 20 percent of the in-migration of the newly employed will choose to live in the Bay-Waveland area, if they follow the historical pattern, but will live in Diamondhead, Slidell or Harrison County.

An amazing thing to me is that some officials can't see that they are committing political hari-kari in supporting this gambling gamble. They have, in effect, given this county to, and placed its destiny into, the hands of strangers who are as yet unnamed.

Already, due to normal growth by in-migration, some well-known political names have either lost at the polls or won by tight victories against untested and comparative newcomers.

Within a very few years the old names will mean nothing to the bright and ambitious newcomers who will challenge them at every turn. The local political structure is destined to the same fate as the local business structure. If any individual happens to survive, he will be under suspicion of selling out to the gambling interests.

But the gullible will flock to "New" St. Louis. The dice will roll, the cards will flip, the wheels will turn. The winners will take their loot back whence they came, the profits will go to Vegas, the taxes to Jackson, the problems to city hall and the supervisors' room. The crooked officials will go, hopefully, to jail. The retired will go looking for a safer, quieter, cheaper place to live. The cops will go crazy from overwork. A few builders, realtors and land attorneys will go laughing to the bank.

Meanwhile, 80 percent of the new jobs will go to the in-migrants. The local businesses that survive will be under the stress of new competition. Some motels and restaurants will become flop-houses or greasy spoons for the have-nots. As usual, the locals will get only about 20 percent of the new jobs and these near the bottom of the pay scale, except for a few professional types who will just have the status of higher-paid lackeys.

The losers? They will go to social services, Traveler's Aid or to a church (yes, I said church) agency for help.

I have tried to put the best face possible on this scenario. However, I have another bonus I would like to mention.

Gambling is nothing new. We know it has been with us since before the time of Christ. This activity has been tried in America before and it has been determined to be undesirable in our society and has been prohibited by law just as its traveling companions of muggers, con artists, prostitutes and drug pushers have been prohibited. Now, a cattle egret does not follow cows because they are cows; they follow because the picking is easy. It is the same with the above vices. They follow organized gambling because the large, free-spending, secular crowds make the picking easy.

When these followers start to ply their trade, all of us will be on the same level. It will do no good to tell a mugger, "No, you can't rob me; I supported your kind." Ha! They will still get you.

The bottom line is that organized gambling is too big a fish for our little pond. It will gobble up too many small fry that also contribute to the economy. It will benefit only a few of those who "voted it in."

I see this as counterproductive. To everything, we have worked toward for the past 25 years, which was to provide a solid economic base balanced with a high quality of life.

With the help of many, both in and out of government, we have made great progress. Over the last two decades the population of the county has almost doubled. If it should double again, our unemployment rate will still be about the same, and there will still be those who cannot make it in business.

Here are some of the good things that have happened: Shennis Space Center has become a national brain center; the Navy has moved in; the ammo plant, though closed, has left valuable assets behind that can be converted; Dupont, Borg-Warner (now GE), Alcan, Bay-Tech, Diamondhead; new schools; a new hospital; excellent public parks; a fairground with nice public-use buildings; good youth programs; active civic groups; broad religious choices and pride in our homes and environment.

We have all of this and yet we have kept the character and charm, the informal, relaxed, friendly quality of lifestyle that is the envy of most who visit and has made immigration one of our best economic builders.

This has been done while recovering from a hurricane that devastated us and set the normal growth pattern back for years.

But now we have many among us who do not know or care where we are coming from. They want it all, and they want it now, without effort.

Are we to gamble our past efforts on a quick-fix for them? If so, we just may throw craps!

Bay High tennis team wins Division 8-3A championship

Special to the Echo
The Bay High tennis team, behind two first place finishes, one second place finish, and one semi-finalist, won the District VIII Division 8-3A championship on Tuesday.

Bay High collected eight team points, while Pass High and Stone County had six, each to tie for second, with Vancleave and East Central collecting two points each.

In boys' singles play, senior Paul Compretta of Bay High won the division championship giving up only four games in two matches.

Compretta, after receiving a first round bye due to his No. 1 seeding, defeated Pass High's Gary Ulrich 6-0, 6-0 in his semifinal matchup.

In the finals, Compretta defeated No. 2 seed Artie Moore of Stone County 6-2, 6-1.

Compretta will enter the state tournament next week with a perfect 9-0 singles record for the season, missing three weeks of action due to a mid-season ankle injury.

In girls' singles action, Bay High's Janelle Bufkin went into the tournament as the No. 1 seed with a 5-1 district record, and a 9-2 overall season record.

Bufkin received a first round bye, which placed her in the finals where Jenni McKay Parker of Pass High played an excellent match in outlasting Bufkin 6-3, 6-3.

The two had split matches in district play during the season. Bufkin, with her second place performance, picked up a point for her team and will play in the state tournament next week.

In boys' doubles action, Jermaine Labat and Trent Favre played excellent tennis in winning the championship for Bay High.

Labat and Favre entered the tournament as the No. 3 seed due to some early season district loss in which they were not teamed together.

However, the two played some of the best tennis of their career during the tournament on Tuesday.

Picking up three team points in the first round, Labat and Favre defeated Jim Henry and Jeremy Mason of East Central 6-1, 6-1.

After receiving a second round bye, Labat and Favre needed three sets, but played a great third set in defeating Gary Duboisson and Noah Emerson of Pass High 6-2, 2-6, 6-1 in the boys' doubles finals.

Both Bay High and Pass High will advance to the state tournament.

In girls' doubles play, Bay High's team of Kelly Oliver and Susanna Cameron went in as the No. 3 seed and were matched against the No. 1 seeded team of Pass High, Carolyn Moyer and Jennifer Theobald.

Pass High was able to put together a hard-fought victory in two sets with the first needing a tiebreaker to decide its outcome.

Moyer and Theobald defeated Oliver and Cameron 7-6, 6-3 and went on to place second behind Vancleave, who won the girls' doubles championship.

In mixed doubles action, Bret Foreman and Amanda Francabandera of Bay High entered the tournament as the No. 1 seed receiving a first round bye and adding a point to the team winning total.

In their semi-final matchup, Foreman and Francabandera played well but fell short to the East Central team of Jeff Walker and Tamara Blalock 4-6, 2-6.

East Central went on to win the mixed doubles championship over Stone County 7-5, 6-4.

Compretta, Bufkin, Labat and Favre will be participants in the Mississippi High School Activities Association State Tennis Tournament next Wednesday in Jackson at Bridges Tennis Center.

The Bay High tennis team is coached by Mike Ladner.

Heitzmann takes District IV title

Members of the Our Lady Academy varsity tennis team emerged as winners at the District IV Class 2A tournament May 19 at Bayou Bluff Tennis Club in Gulfport.

District high schools participating in the tournament included OLA, St. John, Bay Springs, Lumberton, Lloyd Star, Richton and Wesson.

After securing a bye in the first round of the girls' singles competition, Kristy Heitzmann of OLA defeated Bay Springs' Savice, 6-0, 6-0.

In the championship match, Heitzmann defeated Marci Ishee of Wesson, 6-2, 2-6, 6-3 to claim the District IV-Class 2A girls' singles championship title.

After securing a bye in the first round of the girls' doubles competition, OLA's Lindy Heitzmann and Caroline Weems defeated Ratcliffe and Sluka of Lloyd Star, 6-1, 6-3.

Seventh graders Heitzmann and Weems lost to senior Sissy Kilil and sophomore Leslie Van Pelt of St. John in a very close final match by a score of 2-6, 6-4, 6-4.

OLA qualified for the state tournament in Jackson April 30-May 1 by virtue of its finalists' showings in both the girls' singles and girls' doubles events.

SSC downs Hancock 10-2

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws defeated the host Hancock Hawks 10-2 Monday to bring their second to 9-11 for the season and 4-3 in the division.

The Hawks' only two scores came in the second inning, while SSC scored 3 in the first inning, 3 more in the fifth and 4 in the sixth.

Coach Carey Ourso named as key players pitcher Brady Price, who pitched seven strikeouts in seven innings, while allowing only five hits and two walks, and who also went 2 for 4 at bat and had two RBIs; Kevin Jacob, who was 3 for 3 at bat with a double and two RBIs; and Scott Peterson, who was 2 for 4 at bat and had two RBIs.

Key plays included a single in the fifth which brought the score to 6-2; and two walks to lead off the sixth inning, followed by four straight hits.

Ourso said the team's next big game is against d'Iberville Monday, April 29, 7 p.m.

"We now have possession of second place (in the district). The bottom line is, if we beat d'Iberville we're in the playoffs."

"Our defense and pitching has carried us. Now our bats seem to be coming around."

"The kids will be ready on Monday. There shouldn't be any nerves. We have played close big games all year. And they know this is what we have been working for since November."

Before the Rocks face the Warriors, however, they will match up with the Biloxi Indians Friday, 7 p.m., at SSC.

Ourso said, "Biloxi is a great team to play, with our situation. We'll see real good pitching, and they will make us field the baseball. That's the type of practice we need to get ready for d'Iberville."

SSC and OLA prepare for district, state tennis

The St. Stanislaus/Our Lady Academy tennis team continues to burn the nets, winning against the last four opponents and losing only two matches for the season.

The Rock-A-Chaws defeated the St. Martin Yellow Jackets 5-0 April 11; the Moss Point Tigers 4-1 April 13; the d'Iberville Warriors 5-0 April 17; and the Gulfport Admirals 4-1 April 18. All matches were played at St. Stanislaus.

Coach Myron Labat commented about the team's performance: "In boys' singles, Chris Delgado has had consistent results, winning seven of his eight matches. Francisco Corral has a three win, two loss record at the same position.

"At the boys' doubles position, Myron Labat Jr. and Phillip Pratt are also undefeated (12-0) thus far while usually drawing the opposing teams' best players.

"At the District VIII 4-A tournament, which takes place on April 25 at the Hiller Park complex in Biloxi, St. Stanislaus should be seeded first in both the boys' singles and boys' doubles positions.

Labat said the SSC/OLA team also has been strong in the girls' singles and mixed doubles positions.

"Kristy Heitzmann has been a model of consistency at the girls' singles position, winning all 16 of her matches and being pushed to the maximum of three sets only twice this year against Gulfport's Macon Dukes.

"At the mixed doubles spot the team has used the services of a number of players, including Mark Schutt, Betsy Boyce, Chris Delgado, Anthony Sperance, Francisco Corral and Marion Labat. The team of Schutt and Boyce thus far is 8-1 in dual matches and has played well all season.

"Lindy Heitzmann and Caroline Weems are 14-1 at the girls' doubles position."

The SSC/OLA coach said all the players have worked hard and are peaking at the best time—right before the district and state tournaments.

"While there is only a remote chance of either SSC or OLA winning their respective district titles (each of the two schools may only enter two of the possible five events), both schools hope to do well at the singles and doubles positions at the state level.

SSC hopes to improve on

COOKING UP A STORM

By Katie McGuire Caire

Our Deep South, Coastal and Creole "Red Beans 'N' Rice" on Monday tradition, just as is the case with so many other delectable dishes, was born of necessity with cooks adapting to the circumstances and the larder. And, isn't it lucky for our palates!

Inasmuch as Monday was Wash Day by custom, in those long ago times before washers and dryers made the outdoor charcoal fires and the "wash boilers" and the clotheslines in sunny yards all but obsolete, Wash Day was a day-long undertaking with no time for frills and flourishes at the stove or oven.

So, while the housewife or the family cook toiled in the back yard, the red beans simmered away to succulence on the stove, awaiting their pairing with rice for Monday's meal, with very little demand for the cook's attention.

Of course, most housewives had soaked the beans overnight (as I still do; and so do many other cooks) in a large pot of water, although advocates of newer methods insist that the same results are achieved by bringing the beans to a boil, turning off the fire and letting them rest an hour or so before proceeding with the cooking. You cook 'em your way, I'll cook 'em mine!

This past Monday, on traditional Red Bean Day, I was among the horde of 200 or so bean lovers who enjoyed a festival of Red Beans 'N' Rice at Virginia Hall of Christ Episcopal Church in Bay St. Louis, when the Hancock County Chapter of the American Cancer Society held its first red-beans-and-rice cookoff.

It was such a success that the planners have already announced they'll hold another one next year, said Janet McQueen and Ann Schmidt, who sampled the delicious food wearily but happily after the highly successful event was over.

Judges gave the Top Bean Award to Hester Plauche's The Reef on Hwy. 603; and diners who sampled the delicious food voted in large measure for Diamondhead Yacht Club's beans "far and away" as Janet phrased it, winner of The People's Choice Award.

It wasn't any easy task to choose from amongst the 10 restaurants competing for the awards, as each one's offering was ever so tasty, with varied nuances of flavor and spicy accents, each establishment strapping "stamping" the dish, so to speak, with its own culinary signature.

Some cooked the beans with less garlic and onions, some with more. Some seasoned the beans with ham hock and such, some with sausage. There were mountains of French bread for accompaniment, even some cornbread, also delicious coleslaw. Some offered chopped onions, for sprinkling over the beans and rice. That's what makes the culinary world go 'round!

Both Top Beans and People's Choice winners follow the long-honored custom of soaking the beans overnight before cooking. Chef Grantier of Diamondhead, "People's Choice" winner, told me on Tuesday that he had cooked his red beans on Sunday, to allow time for flavors to meld and permeate the whole, and had reheated them slowly in the oven on Monday morning.

He uses ham hocks in his red beans, and adds unsalted butter for extra creaminess, but is keeping his exact formula to himself for the next cookoff!

"Top Bean" Hester Plauche of The Reef also uses ham hocks with his red beans, also soaks the beans beforehand, and adds his own nuances of flavor.

Here's his recipe:

RED BEANS
(Makes 3 to 4 Gallons)
3 lbs. dried red beans, cleaned and washed
3 tsp. Tabasco sauce
3 large pieces ham hocks
6 pieces bacon cut into small pieces
2 tobs garlic, chopped

1/2 pound smoked sausage, cut small
3 large bell peppers, chopped
2 bunches green onions, chopped
1/2 stalk celery or 1/4 cups
3 Tbsp. liquid crab boil
1 Tbsp. cummin
1/2 lb. browned pork sausage
Soak red beans for six hours

Cook ham hocks separately in 1 gallon of water. Remove meat and chop, then add meat and liquid to drained red beans and soak for 12 hours in refrigerator. Saute vegetables. Put beans and remaining ingredients into a pot and cover with boiling water. Cook for 1-3 hours.

Piazza triplets

The best things in life, sometimes, come in threes

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The Piazza home in Waveland may not appear to the casual eye as a particularly rich household, but as of February 18, Charles and Emily Piazza counted themselves as the wealthiest couple in town when they were thrice blessed with sons.

MaCaulay, MaConnley and MaKenzie came into the world on that day, welcomed by one sister and three brothers, bringing the Piazza siblings to seven in number.

Caring for the triplets appears effortless for Emily, as she lay one child down to sleep and lifted another crying for attention.

Beaming with the beauty of a proud mother, she sat rocking in a chair near the light of the front living room window, holding one of her newborn sons as he suckled from a bottle of formula.

"They are just like normal babies," said Emily, looking around at her family, "they need to be cuddled, loved, bathed and fed."

"I always wanted a large family," she remarked.

The odds were against the birth of the triplets from the beginning according to Emily. One in 10,000 pregnancies are multiple births.

When Emily first discovered her pregnancy to be a multiple one, it was in her 18th week during an ultrasound examination.

Emily described how she watched the screen and gradually the outlines of three tiny figures became distinguishable.

"It was the most fantastic thing,"

In Emily's case, two separate eggs were impregnated. One of the two eggs split, causing the formation of identical twins, while the third child is a separate individual.

rate individual.

Emily said an amniocentesis was performed during her second trimester and the amniotic fluid from the separate infant reported his development to be one to three weeks behind the twins.

The information implied the third child was conceived at a different time than the other two, but Emily said the doctor assured her that was impossible.

Emily changed doctors shortly after discovering the presence of the multiple pregnancy because her physician recommended a selective abortion to safeguard her health and that of the other two fetuses.

"We are Catholic," explained Emily. "It was all or none." She transferred her care to Dr. Jim Gaddy in Gulfport. "He had triplets himself."

During the last three months of the pregnancy, Emily said she "stayed on the sofa."

The infants were born four weeks premature.

The first to be born were the twins, MaCaulay, at 5 pounds, 12 ounces, led his brothers into the world. "He was the strongest of the three," Emily said. "He came home the day after I did."

The second baby and twin, MaConnley, weighed 5 pounds, 9 ounces and was the sickest of the three at birth. "He needed oxygen and drips right away," added his mother.

The third boy, MaKenzie, the separate child, fared better at birth than his middle brother, although he was the smallest of the three at 4 pounds, 2 1/4 ounces. He, too, was placed on oxygen, but was weaned from the oxygen within a short time.

Four weeks after the births, the three babies became ill with upper respiratory infections. They were all brought to Memorial Hospital in Gulfport and treated. One of the infants Emily believes that as the triplets gain weight and grow in size, they will become stronger and not as susceptible to every little germ.

Emily said the response of concern from family, friends and neighbors throughout the week of the children's illness was unbelievable. "I want to thank all the people who have remembered us in their prayers."

The Piazza family is all smiles these days.

Their religious convictions assure them that they are blessed people to have these three little boys given over to their care.

"God wished us to have triplets," Emily added, "and I named each one with the 'Ma' before their names to thank Mary, the Blessed Mother."

Finally Courtland woke up. All red-eyed and miserable, he strolled into the room just in time to be lifted onto the sofa for a photo with the rest of his family.

Mama was placed next to Daddy. They held the triplets between the two of them. Daughter was on one side, two sons on the other side and Courtland fighting in the front.

Within a few seconds, Courtland was whispered to from the left and then the right. Sister and brothers encouraged him to smile. Everyone was ready—and snap.

"I always wanted a large family."

Shiel, Thomas named BHS STAR Student, Teacher

Stephanie Lee Shiel has been selected as Bay High School's STAR (Student-Teacher Achievement Recognition) Student, according to the Mississippi Economic Council, sponsor of the program.

STAR Students are selected on the basis of academic excellence. American College Test scores and scholastic averages are considered in designation of the school's STAR Student.

According to Bob Pittman of Jackson, president of MEC, "The STAR program encourages and promotes academic achievement among Mississippi's high school seniors."

Shiel is a two-year member of the National Honor Society, four-year member of the Tiger Pride Band, and has been an honor roll student for four years. She was a member of the Gulf Coast Honors Band and served as Color Guard captain for two years. She was also the recipient of national history and government awards.

Shiel selected Mrs. Joan LeMay Thomas as STAR Teacher. She stated, "I chose Mrs. Thomas because she made her class both fun and informative and showed a genuine concern for her students."

Thomas is a history teacher at Bay High School. She graduated from Jackson State University with a BS degree in social science. She has completed graduate work at USM at Gulf Park in Long Beach and William Carey College in Hattiesburg.

Thomas was selected Bay High's STAR Teacher in 1987 and received the Bishop Service Cross in 1984. She has served as senior class sponsor at Bay High for five years and has also sponsored the school's Student Council and YMCA (Youth Legislative Group).

Chronic Fatigue Syndrome or Fibrositis?

Nearly everyone has heard something about the Chronic Fatigue Syndrome (CFS). It seems to be in the news all the time and the news doesn't always seem good.

Basically the syndrome is, as the name implies, marked by a profound sense of tiredness. Not only after a day of work, but even in the morning. In fact, the sensation of fatigue may be so overwhelming that going to work at all may become nearly impossible.

Other symptoms that are common to CFS are muscle aches, swollen lymph nodes, weakness and of course, fatigue. These are also frequent. But what about what causes this problem? Is there the possibility of chronic fatigue syndrome being a result of the Epstein-Barr Virus (EBV) or Cytomegalovirus (CMV) playing a role. While these are only theoretical explanations, they have attracted a lot of attention in the media. Unfortunately, and here's where the news isn't always good, there is no real treatment for these viruses.

Fibrositis or Fibromyalgia is a very common syndrome treated very frequently by rheumatologists. Patients are often referred to the rheumatologist after the initial evaluation fails to find an explanation for the patients' complaints. These complaints are almost identical to those of CFS. Many experts believe that they may be the same disease. Fortunately, there are good treatments available for Fibromyalgia and many patients report cures!

If you or someone you know is suffering with these problems, we may be able to help. Ask your family doctor for a referral or call our office for an appointment.

Kundert inducted into Phi Beta Kappa

University of Dallas junior Donna T. Kundert was recently inducted into Phi Beta Kappa.

Kundert, who is majoring in biology, is the daughter of Don and Mary Kundert of North Little Rock, Ark., and the granddaughter of Thelma Kingston of Bay St. Louis and the late Chester Kingston.

Kundert was one of only five juniors at the University of Dallas to be inducted into the national honor society. Juniors and seniors are selected for membership on the basis of grades, scholarly achievement and broad cultural interests outside the classroom.

The University of Dallas, a private Catholic-affiliated liberal arts institution in Irving, Texas, is one of only 13 U.S. Catholic-affiliated schools with a Phi Beta Kappa chapter.

Kundert, who was on the dean's list for the fall semester, was awarded several scholarships and has recently been awarded a research grant for the summer at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston, Texas. She will be working in the field of biology.

She is currently on a work-study program as a lab assistant to the biology professor, after returning from a semester of study in Rome.

Kundert's career plans include working as a pediatrician and specializing in oncology.

Johnson receives Wal-Mart scholarship

JESSICA JOHNSON

Marilyn Bullington, store manager of the Waveland Wal-Mart, announced the selection of Jessica E. Johnson of Waveland as the 1991 recipient of the $1,000 Wal-Mart Foundation community scholarship. The scholarship is awarded each spring by Wal-Mart to an area college or university bound high school senior and is payable over a one-year period. Johnson, a senior at Bay High School in Bay St. Louis, plans to attend Brigham Young University this fall. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ladner of Waveland. Bullington said, "It is with great pleasure that we announce Jessica as the winner of this year's scholarship. It was a difficult decision for our team of well-qualified, local judges who had to select from many outstanding students." Bullington said the scholarship criteria is based primarily on academic performance, involvement in the school and community and financial need. In addition, scholarship alternates selected are first alternate, Shelly Lee, daughter of Judy Lee of Picayune. She is a senior at Hancock High School; and second alternate, Susan Michelle Dean of Pearlport, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Dean. She attends Bay High School.

Recognized for their efforts serving as judges in scholarship selections are Audrey Dunn of Hancock Medical Center, Allyson Keller of Jolly Rogers Printing, and Ellis Cuevas of The Sea Coast Echo. The Waveland Wal-Mart Foundation community scholarship is one of more than 1,500 scholarships totaling over $1.5 million being given by the Bentonville, Arkansas-based retail chain throughout its 35 state trade territory.

Herrington, Shaddick to address Coast Crime Commission breakfast

The Mississippi Coast Crime Commission's ninth annual "Law Enforcement Appreciation Breakfast" will be at 7:30 a.m. Monday, May 6 at the Royal d'Iberville Hotel in Biloxi.

MCCC's executive director Jerry Brown stated the program will include two outstanding speakers: Assistant Director Raymond Shaddick, U.S. Secret Service Office of Investigations, Washington, D.C., and Lester Herrington, Deputy Commissioner, Mississippi State Tax Commission, Jackson.

Shaddick presently directs the investigative efforts of some 2,000 employees of the U.S. Secret Service. He formerly was assigned to the Presidential Protective Division and in 1981 received the U.S. Secret Service Award for Valor for his exceptional bravery during the attempted assassination of President Reagan.

Herrington is expected to be designated interim executive director of the recently approved Gaming Division of the State Tax Commission and will speak on current gambling law in this state.

He serves as liaison for the Tax Commission with the Mississippi Legislature, and serves on the Executive Committee of the Southeastern Association of Tax Administrators.

The Law Enforcement Appreciation Breakfast is an annual presentation of the Mississippi Coast Crime Commission to honor and pay tribute to all law enforcement and safety personnel in the three coastal counties.

The Mississippi Coast Crime

Commission is a non-profit, non-partisan, non-political organization chartered in 1970. Its thrust is safeguarding the public interest by monitoring the community for potential criminal problems, oversight of activities of public officials, initiating crime prevention programs, and providing community support for efficient and effective law enforcement.

Presently MCCC is focusing attention on the need for a strong operational Gaming Commission, and on assisting law enforcement agencies in preparing to deal with new challenges in our rapidly changing society.

Information for sponsors and tickets for the breakfast can be secured from the MCCC office at 864-9885.

City Hall exhibits Delta blues

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, APRIL 25, 1991-7B

"Delta Blues Today," an exhibit examining the role of blues in one Delta town, has opened at Bay St. Louis City Hall and will hang in the second floor lobby until mid-May.

This exhibit focuses on Indianola, home of legendary blues great B.B. King, and the role blues plays in this Delta town. Beginning with an introduction to the Delta, the exhibit includes photographs, interviews with Indianola residents, and a glimpse into the life of a Delta blues club on a Saturday night.

This inquiry into the status of blues today was initiated by photographer D.C. Young and writer Stephen Flinn Young and funded by the Mississippi Humanities Council. Between June 1988 and the winter of 1989, the Youngs visited the Indianola area to interview musicians and townspeople.

The Club Indianola, a popular club for over thirty years, was one of their stops. The house band for the club is the Ladies Choice Band, directed by band leader Bobby Whalen, who served as the Youngs' guide in Indianola.

This traveling exhibit is sponsored by the State Historical Museum, a division of the Department of Archives and History, and is the third such exhibit made available to the City of Bay St. Louis.

Mike Cuevas, who coordinates the exhibits for City Hall, said, "This exhibit is much different from the Natchez Children or Eudora Welty exhibits. These are not posed photographs, but quite natural and expressive."

"I would hope that a creative local photographer would be inspired to plan a similar type exhibit about music in Bay St. Louis. It's time for a traveling exhibit to tell the story of Bay St. Louis to the rest of the state."

The next Historical Museum exhibit is planned for October and November and features massive panel photographs of the early steamboats that traveled the Mississippi River.

This photo of Jesse Coleman, manager of the Club Indianola, is part of the "Delta Blues Today" exhibit currently on display at the Bay St. Louis City Hall. The traveling exhibit is sponsored by the State Historical Museum, a division of the Department of Archives and History.

Crosby Arboretum sponsors Vieux Carre Gardens tour

The Crosby Arboretum will sponsor a Vieux Carre Gardens Tour on Saturday, April 27.

New Orleans landscape architect, Christopher C. Friedrichs, will lead an enjoyable walking tour and discuss the history of garden design in the Vieux Carre.

Friedrichs is a graduate of Louisiana State University and has been in private practice for 30 years. Currently, several of the gardens that he designed are featured on the PBS series, "This Old House."

The tour will meet at 9:30 a.m. at the entrance of the old U.S. Mint, located on the corner of Decatur Street and Esplanade Avenue. Public parking is located nearby on the corner of Elysian Fields Avenue and Decatur Street.

The group will visit the courtyards, exquisite patios, and lush, walled gardens that create the enchantment of the Vieux Carre. Historical and contemporary gardens will be toured. Several private residences, as well as the museum gardens of Gallier House and the Beauregard-Kavas House will be visited. The tour will end at approximately 12:30 p.m. and registrants are invited to lunch afterwards with Mr. Friedrichs at a local restaurant. Lunch is not included as part of the registration fee.

Tickets for the Vieux Carre Gardens Tour are $20, and the tour is limited to the first registrants. Advance registration is required. For more information, contact the Crosby Arboretum Foundation in Hattiesburg, Mississippi (601/261-3137.)

Diamondhead Garden Club

Vice president Briery Acker conducted the April 18 meeting of the Diamondhead Garden Club. She called upon Louise Kolb to read the letter to open the meeting, followed by the introduction of guests by Betty Cutler.

Committee reports were given by Minnie Feirich, Flower Show; Johnnie Boatright, Pilgrimage; Lee Fredian, rummage sale; Briery Acker, aquarium trip on April 26, to which members will carpool.

The installation luncheon on May 15 will be at the Diamondhead Country Club. Members are requested to contact Betty Cutler with their reservations.

A workshop was conducted at Grace Finley's home April 22 on making Bonsai pots.

Betty Claggett, chairman of the nominating committee, announced the 1991 slate of officers with election immediately following. President is Briery Acker; first vice president, Annette Saucier; second vice president, Margaret Grace; treasurer, Betty Pennington; corresponding secretary, Carol Eckrich; and secretary, Joan Schenck.

Horticultural tips were offered by Betty Tracey. Nancy Schuck announced the Garden of the Month Award went to John and Helen Wise. Yvonne Luck announced the award for Golf Course Yard of the Month was given to Fred and Virginia Roseman, No. 16 Pine.

Acker thanked hostesses Margaret Hill and Ann Meyer and introduced guest speaker Liz Cox, park ranger with the Gulf Islands National Seashore, who spoke to the group on "50 Ways to Save the Planet."

Since the Diamondhead Garden Club was instrumental in the installation of curbside recycling pick-up in Diamondhead, the first such program on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, members were particularly interested in comments and suggestions from Cox.

The next meeting will be the installation of officers luncheon. A board of directors meeting will be May 8 at the Diamondhead Community Center with the past board and the newly elected board to meet at 2 p.m.
